

YOUR MONTHLY LUNAR RETURN

A Personalised Month-Ahead Report

PREPARED FOR

Avery Rose

September 2026 | Illustrative sample chart

Birth and return-location details withheld

Welcome to Your Lunar Month

A lunar return occurs when the transiting Moon reaches the exact zodiacal degree it occupied at birth. The chart cast for that moment opens a personal cycle of roughly twenty-seven days and describes the month's emotional priorities, practical focus and available supports.

Your exact return moment

This illustrative cycle begins on September 8, 2026 at 7:42 p.m. The purchased report calculates the exact moment for the chosen month and location, returning the Moon precisely to its natal longitude and relocating the chart to where the month will be experienced.

About this preview

This shortened sample uses a fictional identity and illustrative chart. It demonstrates the design, tone and depth of the expanded Chloe's Dream report while reserving additional personalised placements and aspects for the purchased version.

Your Lunar Return Chart

Illustrative tropical lunar-return chart | Returning Moon highlighted in gold

The gold Moon marks the emotional centre of the cycle. Blue lines indicate available cooperation and rose lines indicate developmental tension. Numbered divisions show the Placidus houses, revealing where the month's themes seek lived expression.

The Emotional Compass

Moon in Pisces in the ninth house

The returning Moon focuses feeling through meaning, learning, spirituality and expanded perspective. Familiar emotional sensitivity seeks a larger container. A change of environment, new teaching or reflective practice may help feelings become guidance rather than atmosphere.

What helps this month

Widen perspective through study, spiritual reflection or contact with a different environment. Give intuition language, but check that hope remains connected to facts and practical choices.

The pattern to watch

Avoid escaping into certainty, advice or future plans before attending to what the present feeling is asking. Inspiration should enlarge reality, not replace it.

How the Month Meets You

Cancer Rising

The month foregrounds belonging, protection and emotional intelligence. First responses may be more sensitive than usual, and the body quickly registers whether an environment feels safe. Care is a strength when it includes boundaries.

The Moon as chart ruler

With the Moon ruling Cancer Rising and placed in the ninth house, the outward approach and emotional purpose of the month are closely connected. Decisions improve when they make room for both intuition and a larger view.

A monthly stance

Respond rather than absorb. Ask what belongs to you, what belongs to someone else and what can be held with compassion without becoming your responsibility.

The Moon's Conversations

Moon trine Sun

Emotional need and conscious purpose can cooperate. A choice that feels personally meaningful is more likely to restore energy. Use the ease deliberately instead of assuming it will organise the month by itself.

Moon square Mars

Feelings and action move at different speeds. Irritation may signal a boundary, but urgency can exaggerate what is required. Pause long enough to choose a clean response rather than a reaction seeking immediate relief.

Moon sextile Jupiter

Hope and emotional generosity offer support. Helpful people, ideas or opportunities may widen perspective. The opening becomes meaningful through participation and proportionate optimism.

Moon trine Saturn

Feeling and structure cooperate. Simple routines, clear limits and dependable commitments can create emotional safety. Let support be steady rather than dramatic.

Supporting Currents

Sun in Virgo in the third house

Purpose develops through communication, learning and practical attention to everyday details. One useful conversation or well-organised task may create more progress than a large but vague intention.

Mercury in Virgo in the third house

Thought becomes clearer through facts, precise language and manageable questions. Separate what you know from what you fear or assume.

Venus in Leo in the second house

Pleasure, relationship and value seek warmth and creative ownership. Notice where appreciation strengthens self-worth and where spending is being used to manufacture reassurance.

Mars in Capricorn in the seventh house

Action and boundaries are activated through relationships. Directness is useful, but responsibility must be shared rather than silently carried and later resented.

Jupiter in Scorpio in the fifth house

Growth comes through creativity, joy and wholehearted expression. Depth does not have to mean heaviness; pleasure can reveal what the life-force wants more of.

Saturn in Aries in the tenth house

Public responsibility requires mature initiative. Take one visible step, but do not confuse leadership with handling everything alone.

Relationships, Home & Belonging

Relationship climate

Mars in the seventh house gives relationships energy and consequence. Clear requests work better than emotional testing. Conflict can clarify an agreement when both people remain responsible for their own words and choices.

Home and emotional foundation

Cancer Rising makes the private environment especially important. Simplifying the space, protecting recovery time and returning to familiar rituals can have an outsized benefit.

A useful relationship practice

Name the feeling before asking another person to solve it. Then make one clear request, leaving room for an honest response. This separates emotional truth from assumption.

Work, Purpose & Practical Life

Work and responsibility

The Virgo Sun focuses purpose through communication and useful detail, while Saturn brings responsibility to visibility and public direction. Measure progress through consistency rather than emotional urgency.

Communication and decisions

Mercury in Virgo supports fact-checking, editing and clear sequencing. If conversation becomes circular, return to the simplest truthful sentence and identify the next decision actually required.

Energy and boundaries

Mars in Capricorn in the seventh house directs effort into agreements, clients and partnerships. Treat irritation as information about unclear responsibility before deciding that conflict is necessary.

Wellbeing & Inner Support

Capacity across the cycle

Emotional and physical capacity may fluctuate through the twenty-seven-day cycle. Build margin before it is urgently needed and notice whether a recurring mood is asking for rest, expression, support or a practical change.

Your monthly support plan

Choose a small support that can be repeated rather than an ideal routine that adds pressure. Protect sleep where possible, reduce unnecessary input and include something that reconnects you with meaning.

When the month feels intense

Pause before interpreting. Return to the body and ask what is actually required today. If a theme feels larger than the present moment, seek grounded support rather than carrying it alone.

Four Checkpoints in Your Lunar Cycle

September 8 - Opening

Notice what feels newly important. Choose one emotional intention and one practical support connected to the returning Moon.

September 15 - First quarter

Take one visible step. Observe whether initial feelings have clarified into a need, boundary, conversation or useful direction.

September 22 - Mid-cycle

The pattern is easier to recognise. Review what is working, what is draining capacity and what needs a more honest response.

September 29 - Integration

Complete what matters, release unnecessary pressure and note what you want to carry into the next lunar-return cycle.

Your Month-Ahead Synthesis

The central invitation

Give conscious attention to meaning, learning and expanded perspective. This is where feeling is most likely to become useful guidance rather than background noise.

The opportunity

Cancer Rising and a ninth-house Pisces Moon support compassionate understanding. A new perspective can soften an old emotional pattern without denying what has been difficult.

The challenge

Sensitivity can become over-responsibility or avoidance. Keep intuition connected to clear requests, practical timing and the right of other people to have their own response.

Three anchors

FEEL - one honest emotional check-in.

ACT - one realistic step connected to the highlighted life area.

SUPPORT - one boundary or source of care protecting capacity.

Reflection & Practical Guidance

Questions for this month

Which belief or perspective is ready to become larger?

What feeling has repeated most often, and what need might sit beneath it?

Where am I reacting from an older pattern rather than the present situation?

What action can I take without abandoning emotional capacity?

What support, boundary or conversation would make the month more sustainable?

End-of-cycle review

At the end of the cycle, return to these pages. Note what became important, where your emotional response changed, what action helped and what can now be released. This turns the lunar return from a forecast into lived self-awareness.

About this report

Prepared by Chloe's Dream using an exact tropical lunar return, Placidus houses and the True North Node. Astrology is a reflective and spiritual tool, not a substitute for medical, legal, financial or mental-health advice.