

YOUR 2027 COSMIC YEAR

A Personal Month-by-Month Astrology Forecast

Prepared for

Alex | Fictional Sample

January - December 2027

A year to meet with curiosity, clarity and intention

Welcome to Your Cosmic Year

Welcome, Alex | Fictional Sample. This is your personal map of the astrological themes unfolding from January through December 2027. It brings the moving sky into conversation with your own birth chart, helping you notice where growth, commitment, connection and a fresh direction may deserve attention.

Read the overview first, then return to each month as it approaches. Some themes develop slowly and appear in several chapters; others offer a shorter moment to take action, have a conversation or make an adjustment. Use your own observations alongside the report and choose the suggestions that fit the life you are living.

Your Personal Foundation

Sun: 24 degrees 30 minutes Aries

Moon: 27 degrees 06 minutes Sagittarius

Ascendant: 14 degrees 11 minutes Cancer

Midheaven: 14 degrees 11 minutes Aries

Birth details supplied: Fictional demonstration chart at Illustrative only; No real client data.
Your natal chart uses the tropical zodiac and Placidus houses.

How to Read the Timing

Forecast windows use daily planetary positions at 12:00 UTC. Approximate exact-contact dates are interpolated between those samples; they are dates to observe, rather than minute-exact appointment times. Your local calendar date can differ by one day. A closest-point date is labelled separately when an aspect approaches but does not become exact during that month.

The main forecast selects conjunctions, oppositions, squares, trines and sextiles from Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto to your natal Sun, Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Ascendant and Midheaven. Mars supplies shorter triggers. Tight windows use 1.5 degrees for the slower planets and 1 degree for Mars, so a quieter month still has its own useful focus.

The Larger Story of Your Year

These are the strongest longer contacts selected from your chart for 2027. Their windows show when a theme is close enough to deserve special attention; its background may begin earlier or remain meaningful afterwards. Supportive contacts offer room to participate, while more demanding contacts can help you name a boundary, revise a method or strengthen a commitment.

Uranus square natal Venus

Tight personal window: 6 Jul - 28 Nov. Approximate exact contacts: 13 Aug, 18 Oct.

Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Saturn trine natal Moon

Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Approximate exact contacts: 10 Jul, 9 Sep.

Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Saturn conjunction natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 22 May - 22 Jun; 27 Sep - 4 Nov. Approximate exact contacts: 5 Jun, 16 Oct.

Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Saturn square natal Ascendant

Tight personal window: 26 Feb - 22 Mar. Approximate exact contact: 10 Mar.

Personal boundaries and the way you present yourself are becoming more deliberate. Be clear about your availability, take your own needs seriously and let consistency speak for you.

Saturn conjunction natal Midheaven

Tight personal window: 26 Feb - 22 Mar. Approximate exact contact: 10 Mar.

Career decisions benefit from patience, preparation and clear authority. Define the responsibilities you want to hold and the support you need to do them well; lasting progress starts with a workable agreement.

Your Year in Four Chapters

January - March

Saturn sextile natal Mars: Energy needs a workable structure. Set a pace that supports persistence, prepare before pushing forward and distinguish a temporary obstacle from a plan that needs a different method.

Saturn conjunction natal Mercury: Your thinking and communication benefit from precision. Give complex information time, ask the question that needs asking and break a difficult task into steps you can complete.

What would you like to begin with a clearer intention?

April - June

Neptune square natal Jupiter: Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Saturn conjunction natal Sun: Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Which first steps deserve continued attention?

July - September

Saturn trine natal Moon: Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Uranus square natal Venus: Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

What has changed, and what would make the next stage workable?

October - December

Uranus square natal Venus: Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Jupiter square natal Moon: Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table.

What do you want to carry forward from this year?

Eclipses and Review Periods

The eclipse dates below are shared sky events. Your natal-house placement and close contacts show where their symbolism is most personal to you. Solar eclipses can be used as a prompt for a fresh intention; lunar eclipses invite noticing what is becoming clearer. The July eclipse is an exceptionally slight penumbral event, and is not weighted as strongly as the other eclipses in this report.

6 Feb | Annular solar eclipse

17 degrees 37 minutes Aquarius; natal house 8 - shared resources, trust and deeper commitments. Shared money, responsibilities and emotional agreements benefit from honest discussion. Check what is owed, expected or assumed, and put practical details in writing. Trust grows through clarity and consistency as well as emotional closeness.

No conjunction, opposition or square to the selected natal planets and angles falls within the report's 3-degree eclipse orb. Read the house theme as a wider reflective focus.

20 Feb | Penumbral lunar eclipse

1 degrees 59 minutes Virgo; natal house 2 - income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

No conjunction, opposition or square to the selected natal planets and angles falls within the report's 3-degree eclipse orb. Read the house theme as a wider reflective focus.

18 Jul | Penumbral lunar eclipse

25 degrees 57 minutes Capricorn; natal house 7 - partnerships, clients and mutual agreements. Pay attention to the agreements you make with partners, collaborators and clients. Clear expectations make cooperation more comfortable. Ask what each person can realistically offer and what would make the exchange feel fair.

Close personal contacts: square natal Sun (1.46 degrees); conjunction natal Saturn (0.86 degrees). Observe which of these parts of life is already asking for attention.

2 Aug | Total solar eclipse

9 degrees 55 minutes Leo; natal house 1 - identity and the way you meet life. Give attention to how you introduce yourself, what you want to stand for and the pace at which you begin new things. A visible change can be most satisfying when it reflects a choice you have already made inside.

Close personal contacts: opposition natal Mars (0.28 degrees). Observe which of these parts of life is already asking for attention.

17 Aug | Penumbral lunar eclipse

24 degrees 04 minutes Aquarius; natal house 8 - shared resources, trust and deeper commitments. Shared money, responsibilities and emotional agreements benefit from honest discussion. Check what is owed, expected or assumed, and put practical details in writing. Trust grows through clarity and consistency as well as emotional closeness.

No conjunction, opposition or square to the selected natal planets and angles falls within the report's 3-degree eclipse orb. Read the house theme as a wider reflective focus.

Mercury and Mars Review Points

Retrograde describes apparent backwards movement from Earth. In your planning, use the dates below to revisit details and pace rather than expecting a particular outcome. Mercury review points favour checking messages, arrangements and unfinished work; Mars review points invite reconsidering effort and how you pursue a goal.

10 Jan: Mars stations retrograde in Virgo.

9 Feb: Mercury stations retrograde in Pisces.

3 Mar: Mercury stations direct in Aquarius.

1 Apr: Mars stations direct in Leo.

10 Jun: Mercury stations retrograde in Cancer.

4 Jul: Mercury stations direct in Gemini.

7 Oct: Mercury stations retrograde in Scorpio.

28 Oct: Mercury stations direct in Libra.

Dates throughout this report use UTC. A retrograde already in progress on 1 January is shown in the monthly sky note even when its station occurred in 2026.

January | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn sextile natal Mars. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn sextile natal Mars

Tight personal window: 9 Jan - 15 Feb. Approximate exact contact: 31 Jan.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Energy needs a workable structure. Set a pace that supports persistence, prepare before pushing forward and distinguish a temporary obstacle from a plan that needs a different method. The sextile suggests an opening that responds to participation. A conversation, an introduction, a short course or a manageable experiment may be enough to begin. Choose something you can follow through on rather than leaving the possibility at the idea stage.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

Jupiter trine natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 7 Jan - 3 Feb; 19 Jun - 5 Jul. Approximate exact contact: 22 Jan.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Confidence and purpose are ready for a wider horizon. Choose an ambition that feels meaningful to you, and let your next step express the person you are becoming. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

January | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Moon. Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table.

Venus is in natal house 5 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to creativity, romance and enjoyment. Make room for the things you enjoy creating and sharing. Romance, play and personal projects can remind you that pleasure has a place in an ordinary week. Choose an activity that lets you participate rather than waiting to feel perfectly inspired.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Sun. Confidence and purpose are ready for a wider horizon. Choose an ambition that feels meaningful to you, and let your next step express the person you are becoming.

Saturn is in natal house 9 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to study, travel and a wider perspective. A course, a journey or a new perspective may help you reconnect with your direction. Explore the ideas that expand your thinking, then bring one of them into a practical choice. Give curiosity a plan it can actually follow.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Mars opposition natal Venus. Desire, enjoyment and connection may become more immediate. Say what you would like plainly and make room for a mutual response; choose an enjoyable action that respects both time and resources.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Moon. Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table.

Sun is in natal house 7 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to partnerships, clients and mutual agreements. Pay attention to the agreements you make with partners, collaborators and clients. Clear expectations make cooperation more comfortable. Ask what each person can realistically offer and what would make the exchange feel fair.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Sun. Confidence and purpose are ready for a wider horizon. Choose an ambition that feels meaningful to you, and let your next step express the person you are becoming.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

January | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Mars, Jupiter, Uranus. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

10 Jan: Mars stations retrograde in Virgo.

Your Helpful Openings

Saturn sextile natal Mars: Tight personal window: 9 Jan - 15 Feb. Approximate exact contact: 31 Jan. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Jupiter trine natal Sun: Tight personal windows: 7 Jan - 3 Feb; 19 Jun - 5 Jul. Approximate exact contact: 22 Jan. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

Which ambition would I like to give a practical beginning?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

February | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn conjunction natal Mercury. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn conjunction natal Mercury

Tight personal window: 7 Feb - 6 Mar. Approximate exact contact: 21 Feb.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Your thinking and communication benefit from precision. Give complex information time, ask the question that needs asking and break a difficult task into steps you can complete. This conjunction concentrates the two themes in one place. The invitation is to recognise what is beginning or becoming unmistakable, then choose how you want to participate. One deliberate response is more useful than trying to change every part of life at once.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

Neptune square natal Jupiter

Tight personal windows: 27 Jan - 23 Apr; 30 Sep - 31 Dec (continues beyond 2027). Closest sampled point this month: around 28 Feb, within 0.52 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month.

Neptune heightens imagination, sensitivity and the search for meaning. Your inner response may become stronger before you can explain it clearly. Creative practice and quiet attention are useful companions; put important agreements into plain language so inspiration has somewhere solid to land.

Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

February | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Saturn square natal Ascendant. Personal boundaries and the way you present yourself are becoming more deliberate. Be clear about your availability, take your own needs seriously and let consistency speak for you.

Venus is in natal house 6 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to daily work, routines and sustainable effort. The small structures of your day are part of the story. Look at workload, organisation and the routines that support your energy. Improve one recurring task and notice what becomes easier when your schedule reflects your actual capacity.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Midheaven. Career decisions benefit from patience, preparation and clear authority. Define the responsibilities you want to hold and the support you need to do them well; lasting progress starts with a workable agreement.

Saturn is in natal house 9 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to study, travel and a wider perspective. A course, a journey or a new perspective may help you reconnect with your direction. Explore the ideas that expand your thinking, then bring one of them into a practical choice. Give curiosity a plan it can actually follow.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Mars trine natal Moon. Feelings may ask for a direct response. Name the need beneath the reaction, make room for physical movement and choose a conversation in which you can speak clearly without rushing.

Sun is in natal house 8 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to shared resources, trust and deeper commitments. Shared money, responsibilities and emotional agreements benefit from honest discussion. Check what is owed, expected or assumed, and put practical details in writing. Trust grows through clarity and consistency as well as emotional closeness.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Mercury. Your thinking and communication benefit from precision. Give complex information time, ask the question that needs asking and break a difficult task into steps you can complete.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

February | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Mercury, Mars, Jupiter. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

8 Feb: Uranus stations direct in Gemini.

9 Feb: Mercury stations retrograde in Pisces.

6 Feb | Annular solar eclipse

17 degrees 37 minutes Aquarius; natal house 8 - shared resources, trust and deeper commitments. Shared money, responsibilities and emotional agreements benefit from honest discussion. Check what is owed, expected or assumed, and put practical details in writing. Trust grows through clarity and consistency as well as emotional closeness.

No conjunction, opposition or square to the selected natal planets and angles falls within the report's 3-degree eclipse orb. Read the house theme as a wider reflective focus.

20 Feb | Penumbral lunar eclipse

1 degrees 59 minutes Virgo; natal house 2 - income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

No conjunction, opposition or square to the selected natal planets and angles falls within the report's 3-degree eclipse orb. Read the house theme as a wider reflective focus.

Your Helpful Openings

Saturn sextile natal Mars: Tight personal window: 9 Jan - 15 Feb. Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Feb, within 0.11 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Jupiter trine natal Sun: Tight personal windows: 7 Jan - 3 Feb; 19 Jun - 5 Jul. Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Feb, within 1.21 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

What kind of support helps me feel more connected?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

March | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn square natal Ascendant. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn square natal Ascendant

Tight personal window: 26 Feb - 22 Mar. Approximate exact contact: 10 Mar.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Personal boundaries and the way you present yourself are becoming more deliberate. Be clear about your availability, take your own needs seriously and let consistency speak for you. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

Saturn conjunction natal Midheaven

Tight personal window: 26 Feb - 22 Mar. Approximate exact contact: 10 Mar.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Career decisions benefit from patience, preparation and clear authority. Define the responsibilities you want to hold and the support you need to do them well; lasting progress starts with a workable agreement. This conjunction concentrates the two themes in one place. The invitation is to recognise what is beginning or becoming unmistakable, then choose how you want to participate. One deliberate response is more useful than trying to change every part of life at once.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

March | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Saturn square natal Ascendant. Personal boundaries and the way you present yourself are becoming more deliberate. Be clear about your availability, take your own needs seriously and let consistency speak for you.

Venus is in natal house 8 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to shared resources, trust and deeper commitments. Shared money, responsibilities and emotional agreements benefit from honest discussion. Check what is owed, expected or assumed, and put practical details in writing. Trust grows through clarity and consistency as well as emotional closeness.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Midheaven. Career decisions benefit from patience, preparation and clear authority. Define the responsibilities you want to hold and the support you need to do them well; lasting progress starts with a workable agreement.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Mars trine natal Moon. Feelings may ask for a direct response. Name the need beneath the reaction, make room for physical movement and choose a conversation in which you can speak clearly without rushing.

Sun is in natal house 9 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to study, travel and a wider perspective. A course, a journey or a new perspective may help you reconnect with your direction. Explore the ideas that expand your thinking, then bring one of them into a practical choice. Give curiosity a plan it can actually follow.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

March | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Mars, Jupiter. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

3 Mar: Mercury stations direct in Aquarius.

Your Helpful Openings

Mars trine natal Sun: Tight personal windows: 6 Mar - 11 Mar; 23 Apr - 30 Apr. Approximate exact contact: 8 Mar. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Mars trine natal Moon: Tight personal windows: 26 Feb - 3 Mar; 3 May - 8 May. Approximate exact contact: 1 Mar. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

Where would a clearer boundary make daily life easier?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

April | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Neptune square natal Jupiter. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Neptune square natal Jupiter

Tight personal windows: 27 Jan - 23 Apr; 30 Sep - 31 Dec (continues beyond 2027). Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Apr, within 0.67 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month.

Neptune heightens imagination, sensitivity and the search for meaning. Your inner response may become stronger before you can explain it clearly. Creative practice and quiet attention are useful companions; put important agreements into plain language so inspiration has somewhere solid to land.

Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

Mars trine natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 6 Mar - 11 Mar; 23 Apr - 30 Apr. Approximate exact contact: 27 Apr.

Mars brings energy, initiative and the need to do something with what you feel. This shorter influence can make a larger theme more immediate. Give your drive a purposeful task, leave room for recovery and choose a direct conversation before frustration starts making your decisions.

Personal initiative is easier to notice. Choose a task that expresses your purpose and give yourself a clear finish line, so energy produces something satisfying rather than simply more activity. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

April | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

Notice how connection, pleasure and mutual agreement are working in daily life. A meaningful conversation, a shared activity or a clearer expectation can help you participate more fully in the relationships you choose.

Venus is in natal house 9 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to study, travel and a wider perspective. A course, a journey or a new perspective may help you reconnect with your direction. Explore the ideas that expand your thinking, then bring one of them into a practical choice. Give curiosity a plan it can actually follow.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Mars trine natal Sun. Personal initiative is easier to notice. Choose a task that expresses your purpose and give yourself a clear finish line, so energy produces something satisfying rather than simply more activity.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

Your private foundations deserve care. Look at the routines, conversations and surroundings that help you feel supported, then choose one adjustment that makes daily life more comfortable.

Sun is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

April | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, the forecast planets are moving direct. Your personal contacts and natal-house themes remain the useful guide to what deserves attention.

1 Apr: Mars stations direct in Leo.

13 Apr: Jupiter stations direct in Leo.

Your Helpful Openings

Mars trine natal Sun: Tight personal windows: 6 Mar - 11 Mar; 23 Apr - 30 Apr. Approximate exact contact: 27 Apr. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

What has become possible now that I have more experience?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

May | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn conjunction natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 22 May - 22 Jun; 27 Sep - 4 Nov. Closest sampled point this month: around 31 May, within 0.51 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to. This conjunction concentrates the two themes in one place. The invitation is to recognise what is beginning or becoming unmistakable, then choose how you want to participate. One deliberate response is more useful than trying to change every part of life at once.

The transiting planet is in natal house 10 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with career, visibility and public responsibility.

Mars trine natal Moon

Tight personal windows: 26 Feb - 3 Mar; 3 May - 8 May. Approximate exact contact: 6 May.

Mars brings energy, initiative and the need to do something with what you feel. This shorter influence can make a larger theme more immediate. Give your drive a purposeful task, leave room for recovery and choose a direct conversation before frustration starts making your decisions.

Feelings may ask for a direct response. Name the need beneath the reaction, make room for physical movement and choose a conversation in which you can speak clearly without rushing. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

May | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Mars trine natal Moon. Feelings may ask for a direct response. Name the need beneath the reaction, make room for physical movement and choose a conversation in which you can speak clearly without rushing.

Venus is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Saturn square natal Saturn. Your existing structures are ready for review. Some commitments deserve renewal and others need adjustment; use your experience to choose a system that fits the life you have now.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Mars trine natal Moon. Feelings may ask for a direct response. Name the need beneath the reaction, make room for physical movement and choose a conversation in which you can speak clearly without rushing.

Sun is in natal house 11 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to friendships, networks and future plans. Look at the communities and shared projects that help you move towards your future. Good connections include room for your own contribution. Reach out, take part or revisit a goal that feels more possible with the right people beside you.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

May | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Pluto. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

8 May: Pluto stations retrograde in Aquarius.

Your Helpful Openings

Mars trine natal Moon: Tight personal windows: 26 Feb - 3 Mar; 3 May - 8 May. Approximate exact contact: 6 May. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Mars sextile natal Jupiter: Tight personal windows: 9 Feb - 14 Feb; 22 May - 25 May. Approximate exact contact: 24 May. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

Which skill or creative interest deserves regular attention?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

June | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn conjunction natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 22 May - 22 Jun; 27 Sep - 4 Nov. Approximate exact contact: 5 Jun.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to. This conjunction concentrates the two themes in one place. The invitation is to recognise what is beginning or becoming unmistakable, then choose how you want to participate. One deliberate response is more useful than trying to change every part of life at once.

The transiting planet is in natal house 10 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with career, visibility and public responsibility.

Jupiter trine natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 7 Jan - 3 Feb; 19 Jun - 5 Jul. Approximate exact contact: 27 Jun.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Confidence and purpose are ready for a wider horizon. Choose an ambition that feels meaningful to you, and let your next step express the person you are becoming. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

June | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Venus is in natal house 11 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to friendships, networks and future plans. Look at the communities and shared projects that help you move towards your future. Good connections include room for your own contribution. Reach out, take part or revisit a goal that feels more possible with the right people beside you.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Saturn square natal Saturn. Your existing structures are ready for review. Some commitments deserve renewal and others need adjustment; use your experience to choose a system that fits the life you have now.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Sun is in natal house 12 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to rest, reflection and quieter preparation. Some progress happens before it is visible. Give yourself time to finish, reflect or work privately on an idea. A calmer background routine can help you hear what needs attention and decide what you want to bring forward next.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

June | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Mercury, Pluto. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

10 Jun: Mercury stations retrograde in Cancer.

Your Helpful Openings

Jupiter trine natal Sun: Tight personal windows: 7 Jan - 3 Feb; 19 Jun - 5 Jul. Approximate exact contact: 27 Jun. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Saturn trine natal Moon: Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Closest sampled point this month: around 30 Jun, within 0.58 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

What do I need to review before committing to the next stage?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

July | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn trine natal Moon. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn trine natal Moon

Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Approximate exact contact: 10 Jul.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 10 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with career, visibility and public responsibility.

Jupiter trine natal Moon

Tight personal windows: 1 Jan - 11 Jan (already active as 2027 begins); 4 Jul - 18 Jul. Approximate exact contact: 11 Jul.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

July | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Venus is in natal house 1 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to identity and the way you meet life. Give attention to how you introduce yourself, what you want to stand for and the pace at which you begin new things. A visible change can be most satisfying when it reflects a choice you have already made inside.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Sun. Confidence and purpose are ready for a wider horizon. Choose an ambition that feels meaningful to you, and let your next step express the person you are becoming.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Sun is in natal house 1 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to identity and the way you meet life. Give attention to how you introduce yourself, what you want to stand for and the pace at which you begin new things. A visible change can be most satisfying when it reflects a choice you have already made inside.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Sun. Confidence and purpose are ready for a wider horizon. Choose an ambition that feels meaningful to you, and let your next step express the person you are becoming.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

July | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Neptune, Pluto. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

4 Jul: Mercury stations direct in Gemini.

9 Jul: Neptune stations retrograde in Aries.

26 Jul: Jupiter enters Virgo.

18 Jul | Penumbral lunar eclipse

25 degrees 57 minutes Capricorn; natal house 7 - partnerships, clients and mutual agreements. Pay attention to the agreements you make with partners, collaborators and clients. Clear expectations make cooperation more comfortable. Ask what each person can realistically offer and what would make the exchange feel fair.

Close personal contacts: square natal Sun (1.46 degrees); conjunction natal Saturn (0.86 degrees). Observe which of these parts of life is already asking for attention.

Your Helpful Openings

Saturn trine natal Moon: Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Approximate exact contact: 10 Jul. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Jupiter trine natal Moon: Tight personal windows: 1 Jan - 11 Jan (already active as 2027 begins); 4 Jul - 18 Jul. Approximate exact contact: 11 Jul. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

Which part of my year feels worth developing further?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

August | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Uranus square natal Venus. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Uranus square natal Venus

Tight personal window: 6 Jul - 28 Nov. Approximate exact contact: 13 Aug.

Uranus brings the wish for a more honest relationship with freedom. A familiar arrangement may begin to feel too small, or a fresh possibility may arrive unexpectedly. Give yourself space to experiment while keeping the parts of life that offer useful stability.

Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 11 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with friendships, networks and future plans.

Jupiter sextile natal Jupiter

Tight personal window: 6 Aug - 19 Aug. Approximate exact contact: 12 Aug.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Your relationship with possibility is being refreshed. Revisit a belief or long-term goal and ask whether it is still large enough for you, then identify a step that gives the idea practical shape. The sextile suggests an opening that responds to participation. A conversation, an introduction, a short course or a manageable experiment may be enough to begin. Choose something you can follow through on rather than leaving the possibility at the idea stage.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

August | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Venus is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Mars opposition natal Sun. Personal initiative is easier to notice. Choose a task that expresses your purpose and give yourself a clear finish line, so energy produces something satisfying rather than simply more activity.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Sun is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Jupiter sextile natal Jupiter. Your relationship with possibility is being refreshed. Revisit a belief or long-term goal and ask whether it is still large enough for you, then identify a step that gives the idea practical shape.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

August | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Saturn, Neptune, Pluto. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

9 Aug: Saturn stations retrograde in Aries.

2 Aug | Total solar eclipse

9 degrees 55 minutes Leo; natal house 1 - identity and the way you meet life. Give attention to how you introduce yourself, what you want to stand for and the pace at which you begin new things. A visible change can be most satisfying when it reflects a choice you have already made inside.

Close personal contacts: opposition natal Mars (0.28 degrees). Observe which of these parts of life is already asking for attention.

17 Aug | Penumbral lunar eclipse

24 degrees 04 minutes Aquarius; natal house 8 - shared resources, trust and deeper commitments. Shared money, responsibilities and emotional agreements benefit from honest discussion. Check what is owed, expected or assumed, and put practical details in writing. Trust grows through clarity and consistency as well as emotional closeness.

No conjunction, opposition or square to the selected natal planets and angles falls within the report's 3-degree eclipse orb. Read the house theme as a wider reflective focus.

Your Helpful Openings

Jupiter sextile natal Jupiter: Tight personal window: 6 Aug - 19 Aug. Approximate exact contact: 12 Aug. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Saturn trine natal Moon: Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Closest sampled point this month: around 31 Aug, within 0.37 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

Where can I be more visible in a way that feels like me?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

September | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Saturn trine natal Moon. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Saturn trine natal Moon

Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Approximate exact contact: 9 Sep.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 10 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with career, visibility and public responsibility.

Jupiter opposition natal Venus

Tight personal window: 2 Sep - 15 Sep. Approximate exact contact: 8 Sep.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Connection, enjoyment and personal values can become a source of growth. Notice what makes an exchange feel generous and mutual; choose experiences you can enjoy without stretching your resources beyond comfort. The opposition brings two needs into view, often through another person, an agreement or a competing priority. Try naming both sides before choosing your response. A useful balance leaves room for connection while keeping your own needs visible.

The transiting planet is in natal house 2 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with income, resources and self-worth.

September | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Venus is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Jupiter opposition natal Venus. Connection, enjoyment and personal values can become a source of growth. Notice what makes an exchange feel generous and mutual; choose experiences you can enjoy without stretching your resources beyond comfort.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Sun is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Jupiter is in natal house 2 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to income, resources and self-worth. Notice the relationship between what you value and how you use your resources. Review pricing, spending, skills and the work you are willing to accept. A clearer sense of enough can make your choices steadier.

September | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

15 Sep: Uranus stations retrograde in Gemini.

Your Helpful Openings

Saturn trine natal Moon: Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Approximate exact contact: 9 Sep. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Jupiter sextile natal Ascendant: Tight personal window: 24 Sep - 7 Oct. Approximate exact contact: 30 Sep. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

What small change would make my routines more sustainable?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

October | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Uranus square natal Venus. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Uranus square natal Venus

Tight personal window: 6 Jul - 28 Nov. Approximate exact contact: 18 Oct.

Uranus brings the wish for a more honest relationship with freedom. A familiar arrangement may begin to feel too small, or a fresh possibility may arrive unexpectedly. Give yourself space to experiment while keeping the parts of life that offer useful stability.

Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 11 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with friendships, networks and future plans.

Saturn conjunction natal Sun

Tight personal windows: 22 May - 22 Jun; 27 Sep - 4 Nov. Approximate exact contact: 16 Oct.

Saturn asks you to make something workable and lasting. This is a period for choosing commitments carefully, respecting your limits and noticing which responsibilities are truly yours. Progress can feel quieter here, but a clear boundary or a reliable routine can change a great deal.

Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to. This conjunction concentrates the two themes in one place. The invitation is to recognise what is beginning or becoming unmistakable, then choose how you want to participate. One deliberate response is more useful than trying to change every part of life at once.

The transiting planet is in natal house 10 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with career, visibility and public responsibility.

October | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Venus is in natal house 4 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to home, family and emotional foundations. Consider what helps your home feel supportive and what family expectations need a clearer boundary. Changes to a room, a routine or a recurring conversation can create more ease. Give your private life the same care you give your public responsibilities.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Jupiter is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Saturn trine natal Moon. Emotional security benefits from dependable support and clear limits. Make room for your feelings without expecting yourself to solve everything immediately; a steady routine can become a form of care.

Sun is in natal house 4 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to home, family and emotional foundations. Consider what helps your home feel supportive and what family expectations need a clearer boundary. Changes to a room, a routine or a recurring conversation can create more ease. Give your private life the same care you give your public responsibilities.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Jupiter is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

October | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Mercury, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

7 Oct: Mercury stations retrograde in Scorpio.

18 Oct: Pluto stations direct in Aquarius.

28 Oct: Mercury stations direct in Libra.

Your Helpful Openings

Saturn trine natal Moon: Tight personal window: 18 Jun - 2 Oct. Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Oct, within 1.41 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Jupiter sextile natal Ascendant: Tight personal window: 24 Sep - 7 Oct. Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Oct, within 0.17 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

Which agreement or conversation would benefit from fresh clarity?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

November | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Uranus square natal Venus. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Uranus square natal Venus

Tight personal window: 6 Jul - 28 Nov. Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Nov, within 0.42 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month.

Uranus brings the wish for a more honest relationship with freedom. A familiar arrangement may begin to feel too small, or a fresh possibility may arrive unexpectedly. Give yourself space to experiment while keeping the parts of life that offer useful stability.

Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 11 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with friendships, networks and future plans.

Neptune square natal Jupiter

Tight personal windows: 27 Jan - 23 Apr; 30 Sep - 31 Dec (continues beyond 2027). Closest sampled point this month: around 30 Nov, within 0.22 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month.

Neptune heightens imagination, sensitivity and the search for meaning. Your inner response may become stronger before you can explain it clearly. Creative practice and quiet attention are useful companions; put important agreements into plain language so inspiration has somewhere solid to land.

Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 9 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with study, travel and a wider perspective.

November | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Venus is in natal house 6 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to daily work, routines and sustainable effort. The small structures of your day are part of the story. Look at workload, organisation and the routines that support your energy. Improve one recurring task and notice what becomes easier when your schedule reflects your actual capacity.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Saturn conjunction natal Sun. Identity and responsibility are meeting in a practical way. Choose the role you want to carry with maturity, and recognise the difference between a meaningful commitment and a burden you have simply become used to.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Uranus square natal Venus. Connection and enjoyment may need a more individual expression. Discuss space, novelty and shared expectations honestly; make room for preferences you have previously kept in the background.

Jupiter is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Mars conjunction natal Moon. Feelings may ask for a direct response. Name the need beneath the reaction, make room for physical movement and choose a conversation in which you can speak clearly without rushing.

Sun is in natal house 5 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to creativity, romance and enjoyment. Make room for the things you enjoy creating and sharing. Romance, play and personal projects can remind you that pleasure has a place in an ordinary week. Choose an activity that lets you participate rather than waiting to feel perfectly inspired.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

November | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Saturn, Uranus, Neptune. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

No planetary station or slower-planet sign ingress from the forecast set falls within this month. Use the personal dates above and continue the plans that are working.

Your Helpful Openings

Mars trine natal Sun: Tight personal window: 17 Nov - 19 Nov. Approximate exact contact: 18 Nov. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Uranus trine natal Mars: Tight personal window: 22 Jul - 11 Nov. Closest sampled point this month: around 1 Nov, within 1.12 degrees. No exact contact is identified this month. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

What do I want to finish before I begin something new?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

December | Your Monthly Forecast

A leading personal theme this month is Jupiter square natal Moon. The contacts below show how this chapter connects with your own birth chart, with approximate dates to observe and suggestions you can bring into daily life. Read any repeating theme as a continuing process, then choose a response that fits the stage you are in now.

Jupiter square natal Moon

Tight personal window: 8 Dec - 31 Dec (continues beyond 2027). Approximate exact contact: 27 Dec.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table. The square creates a reason to adjust something that has become awkward or too restrictive. Begin with the practical point of friction: a schedule, a boundary, an expectation or a decision. Small, well-chosen changes can turn pressure into progress.

The transiting planet is in natal house 3 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with communication, learning and everyday connections.

Jupiter trine natal Saturn

Tight personal window: 22 Nov - 18 Dec. Approximate exact contact: 3 Dec.

Jupiter invites you to widen your view and give a promising possibility room to develop. Growth works best when enthusiasm is matched by a realistic next step; the opportunity may be a new experience, a useful person, a course or a clearer sense of what you want.

Growth and responsibility need to work together. A plan may become more achievable when you strengthen its structure, ask for useful support or give yourself a realistic timetable. The trine offers a smoother route for expressing this part of yourself. Notice where support, confidence or cooperation is easier to find, and take an active step towards it. What comes naturally can become a lasting strength when you give it attention.

The transiting planet is in natal house 3 at this month's closest sampled point, linking the contact with communication, learning and everyday connections.

December | Your Life and Choices

Relationships & Connection

One personal link is Jupiter square natal Moon. Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table.

Venus is in natal house 7 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to partnerships, clients and mutual agreements. Pay attention to the agreements you make with partners, collaborators and clients. Clear expectations make cooperation more comfortable. Ask what each person can realistically offer and what would make the exchange feel fair.

Work & Direction

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Saturn. Growth and responsibility need to work together. A plan may become more achievable when you strengthen its structure, ask for useful support or give yourself a realistic timetable.

Saturn is in natal house 10 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to career, visibility and public responsibility. Your work, reputation and longer ambitions deserve a thoughtful look. Consider what you want to be known for and which responsibility supports that direction. Prepare a useful conversation or a visible next step that reflects your experience.

Money & Personal Resources

One personal link is Jupiter trine natal Saturn. Growth and responsibility need to work together. A plan may become more achievable when you strengthen its structure, ask for useful support or give yourself a realistic timetable.

Jupiter is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

Home & Your Foundations

One personal link is Jupiter square natal Moon. Emotional generosity and a stronger sense of belonging can develop together. Seek the company and surroundings that replenish you, while giving your own needs a place at the table.

Sun is in natal house 6 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to daily work, routines and sustainable effort. The small structures of your day are part of the story. Look at workload, organisation and the routines that support your energy. Improve one recurring task and notice what becomes easier when your schedule reflects your actual capacity.

Personal & Spiritual Growth

One personal link is Neptune square natal Jupiter. Your sense of meaning may become more imaginative or spiritual. Explore what nourishes that curiosity and make room for questions, keeping a practical check on promises that seem too expansive.

Jupiter is in natal house 3 at mid-month, bringing an additional focus to communication, learning and everyday connections. Your voice, daily conversations and small journeys deserve attention. Make useful information easier to find and say what you mean simply. A practical learning project or a better everyday system can have a surprisingly wide effect.

December | Timing and Intention

The Month's Shared Sky

At mid-month, these planets are retrograde: Saturn, Uranus. This is shared sky context; your personal contacts show how closely it connects with your chart.

15 Dec: Neptune stations direct in Aries.

24 Dec: Saturn stations direct in Aries.

Your Helpful Openings

Jupiter trine natal Saturn: Tight personal window: 22 Nov - 18 Dec. Approximate exact contact: 3 Dec. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

Mars sextile natal Venus: Tight personal window: 7 Dec - 9 Dec. Approximate exact contact: 8 Dec. Choose one useful step that lets you participate in this opening.

An Intention to Carry

What have I learned about the life I want to carry forward?

Write one action that answers this question and give it a place in your month. Return to these pages afterwards and note which themes you recognised, what you chose and what you would like to continue.

A Year to Make Your Own

You do not need to work with every theme at once. Return to the chapter that belongs to the month you are in, choose one useful action and give yourself time to see what develops. A clearer conversation, a steadier boundary, a learning step or a little more room for enjoyment can all become part of meaningful progress.

At the end of 2027, look back at the notes you made. What grew through attention? What became easier when you changed your approach? What now feels more like you? Let that understanding accompany you into the next year.

With a little moonlight,

Angela | Chloe's Dream

Calculation Notes

This is a calendar-year transit forecast, covering 1 January to 31 December 2027. Natal positions and Placidus houses are calculated by the site's configured FreeAstroAPI service. Forecast positions are apparent geocentric tropical longitudes generated with Astronomy Engine 2.1.19. House overlays use the longitude sectors between your calculated natal cusps. Chiron, lunar-node transits, progressions and Solar Returns are not included in this forecast.

Daily positions at 12:00 UTC support approximate date windows and interpolated aspect-contact dates. Forecast interpretation, ranking and house-sector overlays are supplied by Chloe's Dream. The original report text is selected from a written interpretation library; no provider-written interpretation text is used.

Astronomical References

Astronomy Engine: github.com/cosinekitty/astronomy

NASA eclipse dates: eclipse.gsfc.nasa.gov/OH/OH2027.html